

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE (Vancouver, BC – June 1, 2010)

QAI is happy to announce the relocation of their Canadian office in the Vancouver, BC, Canada area. As part of the effort to expand their high quality services in the testing, inspection, certification, and code-compliance of Building Products, QAI has moved to a significantly larger facility in Coquitlam, BC, a suburb just east of Vancouver in June of 2010.

The new office will allow QAI to expand its service to clients in Canada and the United States and continue its rapid growth. With the expanded office QAI will continue to grow its Building Products, Window, Electrical and Mobile/Modular/Recreational Vehicle Testing, Inspection and Certification services.
