

EPA WATERSENSE® PRODUCT CERTIFICATION

EPA WATERSENSE® LICENSED CERTIFYING BODY

What is the EPA Watersense® Program

Despite 70% of the world's surface being covered by water, less than 1% of the total world water resources are available for human use. With a growing population, the demand for water has tripled over the last half-decade. The US EPA developed the EPA WaterSense® program in 2006 to promote the conservation of this natural resource. These efforts have raised consumer awareness of the need to conserve water.

What We Do

QAI is able to provide seamless product certification to the applicable product requirements of the EPA WaterSense® Certification System. When partnering with QAI, all of your certified products will be able to receive the EPA WaterSense® Logo in addition to the QAI certification mark, where applicable for US and Canada, providing broad approval to bring the product to market.

Typical Products Tested/Certified

- Flushometer-Valve Toilets
- High-Efficiency Flushing Urinals
- High-Efficiency Lavatory Faucets
- Tank-Type High-Efficiency Toilets
- Showerheads
